Image Sequence Analysis

Line: The lines created by the construction of the kitchen give the mood of sophistication, order, and cleanliness. It represents an open, clear palette to create from. The lines draw you in as you follow them while stimulating the atypical side of our brain. It also is the nicest kitchen I've cooked in and portrays a dream kitchen we all want.

Symmetry: The lines create a symmetry which I reused in most of the photos. Everything is in relation to its surroundings, emphasizing the subject in each photo. This also brings order and balance. The one photo of the frying pan was supposed to also bring balance.

Negative Space/Focal Point: In a few photos I use negative space to emphasize the content. The white wall does a great job of showcasing the focal points of the photo. It also aided in the sophisticated mood I was going for.

Colour: I reserved one photo to show the contrasting colours of the ingredients. It is a festive colourful change to the rest of the earthy colours and Line dominant photos. It contrasts the collection, necessary...maybe? Maybe Not?
